

Dear friends and members of Adesuwa,

Special Edition: Back to School Celebration in Coker Village!

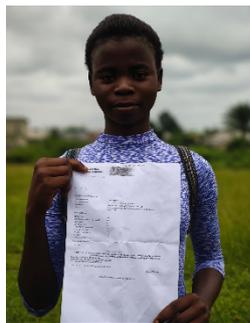

This September, Adesuwa kicked off the new school year with a joyful celebration.

Adesuwa was honored by the presence of the Baale of Adegbitte who opened the ceremony by expressing gratitude and leading prayers for Adesuwa, our team, and all the tutors. He urged parents to remain supportive of their children's education, to monitor their progress closely, and to uphold Adesuwa's values.

Celebrating Graduates and Excellence

Graduating students with outstanding WAEC results were recognized with gifts and encouragement. Many expressed gratitude for Adesuwa's support throughout their school years and appealed for continued sponsorship as they pursue university education.

Additionally, several students across different classes were honored with awards for exceptional performance, presented by our distinguished guests.

Back-to-School Kits Distribution

Thanks to your generosity, each child received a personalized school kit containing:

- Exercise books
- Sandals, underwear, socks
- Stationery (pens, pencils, rulers, erasers, sharpeners, mathematical sets)
- A new school uniform

Parents and children were visibly delighted, and guests praised the high quality of the kits.

Feast and closing

No celebration is complete without sharing a meal and parents catered a warm feast for all. Beyond kits, Adesuwa also paid students' school fees directly to the tutors, ensuring no child is excluded from school this year.

Thanks to you, our sponsors, 70 children in Coker Village have started this school year equipped, motivated, and supported.

Together, we are raising a generation of resilient, hopeful young leaders.

With heartfelt thanks,
Your Adesuwa e.V. Team
